

Hau Kola,

Hello Friend,

I would like to begin by saying thank you to all who have helped Eagle's Nest Center survive a very difficult time. Over the past few years many non-profit organizations have failed due to the economy. During this time of economic hardship, fewer and fewer people have been in a position to make donations or volunteer.

Through this, somehow, we have been able to keep going!

I would also like to announce that our website has been reconfigured from our outdated format and has been re-launched! I want to thank those who have helped make this possible and for Dreamhost who makes it possible for Eagle's Nest Center to be available to all of you.

Some new things that will on our website are fundraising items for sale, donated by inmates who are giving back to the community with various Native artwork they have made. (I.e. Restorative Justice) I have been providing Native Ceremonies to inmates in eight of Wisconsin's State Prisons for seven years now and honor these inmates who are trying to help with their donations.

Also in March, I had made a trip to Kenya then traveled to Tanzania to climb Mt. Kilimanjaro. I would like to thank those who sponsored and supported this adventure to the summit. These funds were donated to a local orphanage and were very much appreciated.

I'm planning a trip back to Kilimanjaro in 2015. I now feel comfortable with providing an experiential journey for a group of at-risk youth; those who have fallen between the cracks. To experience this type of an adventure, will provide so much on so many different levels, providing a positive impact upon their lives. I am hoping to provide a life altering experience. You will be able to read more about this on our website, if you are interested in helping with this project. (These pages are currently under construction and we hope to have them posted soon).

Our Newsletter has also been down for a while with our website and this will be available again in E-format. You will be able to read more about the things I have mentioned there as well.

Thank you again to all those who have stood behind and beside ENC in the past and I look forward to your continued participation.

Our young people are the ones we will depend upon when are too old to take care of ourselves. Taking care of them now is a good investment!

Toksa Ake

Until later,
